About ZUST

Zhejiang University of Science and Technology (ZUST) is a multi-disciplinary university specializing in engineering and incorporating disciplines in science, arts, economics, management and education, etc.

ZUST has two campuses.

Xiaoheshan Campus is located in the historical and cultural city of Hangzhou, the capital city of Zhejiang Province, one of the most prosperous provinces in China.

30-minute ride from the West Lake, the UNESCO world heritage site.

25-minute ride from Alibaba Headquarter, the world's largest and most valuable E-commerce service provider.

30-minute ride from DeepSeek Headquarter, one of China's high-tech artificial intelligence companies
1.5 hours drive from Yiwu, the world's largest small commodity market.

▼ Hangzhou Xiaoheshan Campus

▲ Anji Campus

Anji Campus is located in Anji County, which has won the United Nations' Habitat Scroll of Honor Award.

Currently, ZUST offers 16 English-taught undergraduate programs, and 12 English-taught postgraduate programs. Moreover, ZUST provides a master's degree program in International Chinese Language Education and a bachelor's degree program in Chinese Language and Literature (Business Chinese) for Chinese language beginners. With the further development of international cooperation and the establishment of distinctive undergraduate and postgraduate programs, the number of international students is increasing significantly.
